Every Intelligent Person Should Learn How to Write.

More than a million people are employed in the publishing business in the United States, and all of them "had to begin." They are dropping out every day, and some one must take their place. There must be writers for

The Newspapers Magazines Moving Pictures

They pay more for the same class of service than most of the professions. With a table, a chair, paper and a typewriter you can begin now; and you do not need to give up your present occupation or employment. Even if you do not wish to take up journalism as a profession, there is no better mental training than learning to write.

The man or woman who writes is automatically thrown in touch with the big people who are shaping the destiny of the state and the nation, and the big things that are taking place in the new development of the country.

The fundamentals are carefully and simply arranged in our Correspondence Course of instruction. A Washington correspondent who has written for every class of publications during the past twenty-five years has arranged the work, and is in charge of the course. Money back if you are not satisfied.

Cream Loss From Slow Turning.

At Purdue University the Experiment Station collected and published a lot of data showing the appalling loss in cream due to the universal tendency of separator operators to turn the machine too slowly. Their bulletin was a revelation to many, many dairymen, who had been losing anywhere up to $100 per year worth of butterfat simply by turning their separators below speed.

At the Fairs recently, a leading speedometer manufacturer, had thousands of tests run to get further proofs positive that a great majority of operators turn their machines below speed. Cards similar to the following were made out by several thousand farmers:

I own a ..... Separator
Its normal speed is ..... R.P.M.
The indicator showed that I was turning ..... R.P.M.
Name .....
Address .....

Each one was asked to turn the crank of a sample separator, (same make as his own) at the speed he was accustomed to turning his own machine at home. The actual speed was then determined by an indicator, and each farmer made out a card like the above, showing how near he had been able to strike the right speed. The card shows, first, the normal speed of the machine; and second, the speed the farmer was accustomed to turning it. Over 95 per cent of the dairymen turned their machines too slowly. And a majority turned them so far below speed that they were losing pounds and pounds of butterfat every week.

A speedometer, however, affords no guarantee against cream loss. It requires constant watching and many machines thus equipped are still turned below speed much of the time. Especially is this true when the separation of the milk must be left to the boys or the "hired man."

Frog Plays Trick on Him.

John Arnold, 45, Sixty-third street and Lydia avenue, was taken to the Kansas side emergency hospital suffering from the effects of swallowing a frog. This is how it happened. A night on the "wettest block" John woke up in a shed near the Huindaro pumping station. He needed water. There was a spring nearby. He drank. The spring contained some small frogs. One passed near John's intake. A gulp and he was gone. Sohn jumped up and ran to Twenty-seventh street and Spring avenue, where he lay down under a wagon exhausted. Some one called the ambulance. After a ten-minute siege with the stomach pump Dr. G. H. Hobson, police surgeon, extracted the frog. It was one-half inch in diameter.

Following the operation the frog hopped away with great energy, apparently none the worse for its experience.—Kansas City Star.

Cattle are looking unusually good, considering the dryness of the range.
